Jan. 30, 1857-1f. MOSELEY'S TUBULAR WROUGHT IRON

ARCH BRIDGES AND ROOFS. THESE Bridges and Roofs have now been fully tested in this vicinity, and it is universally conceded that they cannot be excelled. The Roofs are wholfy Wrought Iron, or mixture of Wood and Iron; Sheeting always Iron.

always Iron.

The Bridges are wholly Wrought Iron except the floor, which is wood, like the floors of ordinary Bridges.

We are prepared to make these structures in any quantitics, at prices about as follows:

Railroad Bridges, 50 feet span, 8,000 lbs, $17 50 per foot linest. Common Road or Tarupike, 50 feet span, 2,600 lbs. $5 75 per foot lineal.

Roois, ali iron, 50 feet width of building, $25 per 100 squa.e feet, part wood and part iron, from $12 to $20 aqua.e feet, part wood and part iron, from $12 to $20 per square.

Increase of span of bridges or width of buildings makes an increase of price, but the increase in price is no more than the increase of wooden structures.

We can furnish iron of every size to work into Bridges and Roofs, and Railroads er other companies huying the right to use them and the iron of us, can make their own structures one third less than the above prices. Our structures weigh only iron 1.4 to 1-10 that of wood; difference in freight in a long distance buys our work. In a few days we will have at our Factory, 497 West Third street, in this city, four different specimens of our Roof, where the public can inspect them to their satisfaction. We beg them to give us a call, as all our work is warranted, and we ask no pay on ordinary jobs until the work is done and approved, payments being secured on contracting. From Rev. Dr. Tefft, late President of Gennesses Collegs.

GENTLEMEN:—Having made a particular examination of Goodrich's "History of All Nations," I am free to say, that I know of no work, greator small, that contains half the amount of useful and entertaining matter for family reading. It is writtle in Mr. Goodrich's best tyle. It is a library, a historical library of itself; and it is worth, according to the usual cost of good reading, two or three times the money you ask for it. It is no wonder that you have to keep a power press running constantly to supply the orders for these volumes; for the public have only to know their value to make them a universal want with all classes.

I am, gentlemen, most respectfully yours,

Extract from a Letter from Ex-President Filtmore. I think it eminently deserving of the public patrocage. It is necessarily hrief; but it hrings under review, with its admirable illustrations, the principal subjects worthy of attention in all nations, and to the young especially, it is invaluable.

I have been familitar with Mr. Goodrich's writings for many years, and have the pleasure of a personal acquaintance with him; and think him admirably qualified for imparting instruction in a way that brings it within the reach of the common mind.

All the first cabin passengers were on the poop, excepting; a few gentlemen, who must have been smothered in the smoking room. Many of the second calsin passengers were also on the poop, but a number were shut up in the cahin by the fire. Some were pulled up through the ventilstor, but the greater number perished in the flames. A woman was drawn up, who said that six were then already suffocsted. Several men and women jumped into the sea by twos and threes. Some of the women were then already in flames. Others hesitated until driven over by the advancing flames. Iu half an hour not a soul was left on the poop deck.

The French bark Maurice, Capt. Ernest Renaud came along side at five o'clock, and received forty of the passengers, who were chiefly taken from the bow-sprit, but some were strug gling in the water. Mr. Dunn says that it has been discovered that we give for the henefit of our readers.

Mr. Dunn says that it has been discovered that in all hogs afflicted with this disease, there is a 'fulse tooth' found, similar to the "blind tooth" in horses. This tooth is perfectly black in appearance, and seems to he a sort of an erratic or superfluous offshoot, growing out from the outside of the upper jaw, one on each side, and situated between the tusk and the grinders. Mr. D. in-formed us that two of his neighbors, Mr. O. P. Aiken and Daniel James, had examined a large number of hogs, and had found that every diseased hog had this black tooth.

They also extracted these teeth from a numher of hogs, by knocking them out, and the hogs Hogs affected with this disease refuse to eat, but Mr. D. says that as soon as these teeth are extracted they begin to eat corn readily. He was not prepared to say whether the disease was caused by an inability to eat on account of these children at meeting their friend was vociferous. Adulterations of Various Kinds.

In a discourse on the "Benefits and Evils of Commerce," the irreverend Henry Ward Beecher, in describing the evils of trade, alludes to the preparations for markets, home and foreign, wholesale and retail, of a long list of "Imposi ing of the 13th lust. There were upwards of tions, adulterations and frauds, under every let-six hundred persons on hoard, only sixty seven of ter of the alphabet." Mr. Beecher says in his choice words, that such "goods are incarnated lies. We that consume are daily in the consumption of lics—we drink lying coffee —we eat lying food—we patch lying clothes with cheating threads—we perfume ourselves with lying es taken from the bow sprit. At 8 o'clock 22 sence—we wet our feet in lying boots,' &c., &c. others were taken up by one of the metalle boats, In illustration of this philippic, it is stated that Dr. Bailey, during the nine months he held the office of Examiner under the Government of the Goods. United States, rejected at the port of New York over fifty-five tons of spurious or adulterated drugs and medicines. The Londou Lancet, iu an article on the adulteration of coffee, says that let a microscopic examination of thirty-four different qualities sold in London, showed that with three exceptious, the whole were adulterated Chichory was found in thirty one, with the additions often of roasted corn, beans or potatoes Extensive adulterarions of pepper, &c., are also mentioned, showing that these "lies of trade" ahound everywhere, and extend to almost every abound everywhere, and extend to simost every stricle of consumption.

But the most important adulteration of all was omitted by Rev. Henry Ward Beecher. It is the adulteration not only of the bread that perisheth, but of that which feeds the soul; the mixture of importance and rejectors companies of hu ture of impure and poisonous compounds of hu man invention with that Divine Revelation which has itself deuounced the most fearful woes upon those who add to, or take from it. What does the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher think of the adulteration which makes anti slavery essential to salvation, and which substitutes for the prohibitions of stealing and murder in the Decalogue. the new commandment, invented and promulgated by Beccher, Parker & Co., viz: that for the pur pose of accomplishing his liberation, it is lawful for a servant to take either the horse, or life, or both, of his master? Drinking "lying coffee eating lying food, perfuming with lying essence walking in lying boots." &c., as Beecher says he does, we might naturally expect lying doctrines also, though his Reverence is a shrewd trader, and does not warn us against his own adulterations. The proportion of truth to error in one of his abolition discourses, is about the same as that of coffee to chickory in the London market, not more than a fifth of the whole article. And his own adulteratious are as much more danger ous than those of other men, as the food of the soul is more important than that of the body. If he would teach people to quit fraud and imposture, let him give them a better example from the pulpit than his adulterations of the morality of the Bible, and his commendation, in certain eases, of stealing and murder .- Richmond, Va.

So, after all, the Kansas question was not set. tled by the Democratic Congress, but "by the fore in favor of the Lecompton Constitution, and votes of the inhabitants of the Territory." Their political salvation depended upon repudiating the clause of the English bill which compels the people of Kansas to accept Union until the Territory contained 93,000 inhabitants. The people of Kansas have never expressed a willingness to stay in their condition of pupilage until the Territory contains 93,000 souls. That question was never submitted to them, and they have never assented and never will assent to it. On the contrary they have already presented a petition to the Governor placed over them to immediately call an extra session of upon this "settlement of the Kansas question by the votes of the inhabitants of the Territory."

We now have the pleasure of recording the fact that several other of our friends have taken premiums. At Eminence, Dr. HUGH RODMAN, of our city, took the first premium for buggy mares three years old and upwards; Mr. T. F. BLAKEMORE, for buggy horses three years old and upwards; and Capt. J. W. Russell, for a yearling thorough bred filly. We also learn that our young friend, John A. Lewis, son of Rev. C. Lewis, took the first premium at Lexington, Eminence, and at the State Fair at Louisville, with his fine yearling stallion colt Japper, by Buford's before she got to her door. It seemed as Cripple-a son of Medoc-dam by John Richards. We congratulate our young friend upon 1811, the ground sunk near the same place, his success, and we think he richly deserves it, making a lake twelve miles long and seven for Japhet is one of the finest colts we ever saw. We are very fond of good coffee, and profess to be a judge, and we have never seen any to equal that made in the "Old Dominion Coffee Pot." We clip the following in relation to the coffee pot from one of our Exchanges:

Wonderful.—It is astonishing to see how the "Old Dominion Coffee Pot," has superceded the old fogy coffee pots, formerly in use by families. Go where you please, and you will find the virtues of the "Old Dominion" spoken of, for the virtues it possesses in retaining the strength and arona of the coffee over all others now in use,

Movements in Kansas.

Southern Democrats have already taken the ground that there was no disposition on the part of the people of Kansas to apply for admission let them no longer lay that flattering unction to says the captain was the first to jump overtheir souls. There seems to be, according to recent advices from Kansas, a very general disposition there, with men of all parties, to ask for a repeal of the population restriction in the English Bill, at the approaching session of Congress. While It is admitted that there should be some established ratio of population for a State before obtaining admission into the Union, it is urged that the argument of precedents is a fair one. The Leavenworth Herald, heretoa Democratic journal, is in favor of the repeal alluded to. We call the special attention of Southern Democrats to what it says on the subject, in the subjoined extract: Administrations have tried in vain to do.

But how have "the votes of the inhabitants of that Territory" settled the Kansas question?

"Other Territories have been admitted without the requisite population, and it is quite natural that a rigid interpretation and application of the law at this latter day, should be received with They have decided by 9,000 majority that they will not even for 5,000,000 acres of land come into the Union as a State under the fraudulently made Constitution which the Democratic party, doubtedly does. But while we are opposed to doubtedly does. But while we are opposed to doubtedly does. But while we are opposed to by the advice of Mr. Buchanan, songht to impose allowing any law to remain unenforced and as a upon them. They have decided, further, that 'dead letter' upon the statute books, we see no reason why the law cannot be repealed. The object of the law was to prevent any further agi on account of its provisions and the unexampled riety of any existing laws opposing our demands, and thereby render a final adjustment of the sub-organic law under which they desire to live. Kansas should apply for admission before they have attained the requirements of the English sense that the Lecompton Constitution is not the | tainly should be repealed. In case the people of Mr. Crittenden and Humphrey Marshall desired bill in regard to population, then it will at once to give them an opportunity of submitting this be seen that the 'restrictive clause,' instead of question directly to them, and were denounced as traitors and Abolitionists. But the Democratable settlement of the 'Kansas question. ic Congress covertly submitted it to them under der these circumstances, the course to be purthe precious cloak of a 'land proposition,' and were endorsed in so doing by the Democratic men, of whatever party, will at once see the nepress and Conventions. This only proves that cessity of yielding to the force of circumstances, and admitting Kansas as a State, and the only test which should be made upon the occasion is upon the merits of the constitution itself. In case a constitution liberal and republican in its "The settlement of the Kansas question by provisions shall be presented, then we shall certainly advocate its adoption by Congress."

BROWNLOW'S PICTURE OF HIS ANTAGONIST .-The last number of the Knoxville Whig is a the Parson in his recent discussion on slavery, and speaks out quite freely upon matters and things in the Quaker City. He says every paper in Philapelphia is anti-slavery, and their rethe Lecompton Constitution or remain out of the porters are Abolitionists and Black Republicans, with the exception of one man, who came from the South, and he has no voice in shaping the character of reports to be published. He draws a picture of his competitor in the slavery discussion, Mr. Pryne, which is not very complimentary. It is done up in Brownlow's own peculiar style as follows:

"Mr. Pryne is staying at the same hotel I do—the American. He intended to deliver the address at a public meeting, but the multiplicity of his du-ties have rendered it impossible. He commences ties have rendered it impossible. He commences by reviewing the part he took at Tarrytown and the causes which induced him to pronounce the speech. He alludes to the statement of the Union, denying the conversation he represented to have had with the President. He says, not only did the conversation take place, but many things were omitted in the Tarrytown speech. Among others the President said:-If you, Douglas, and Walker, will unite in support of my Kansas policy, the people of Kansas will vote for it on the 21st of December. I know that you have the strong side of the question; that you can carry off the people, but I appeal to you to stand with me, because, if I don't adhere to my policy, Alabama, Georgia. and Mississippi will probably secede from the Union. A few days after this interview, a triend from Southern New York visited Forney at Philadelphia, saying that the President intended to make his Kansas policy a party test, and ed to make his Kansas policy a party test, and no man would be tolerated by the administration few miles east of Jackson, attached by a "lariat," who did not approve and support it.

Subsequent to the election, when Forney published a caustic article about Bennett, Buchanan regretted the publication, saying, "I desire that Bennett shall support my administration." For ney then reviews the political condition of the Union, claiming all the Democratic victories in decidedly spicy number. Vice of ONANISM, or SELF-ABUSE, &c., &c.
The HOWARD ASSOCIATION, in view of the awful destruction of human life, caused by Sexual diseases, and the deceptions practised upon the unfortunate victims of such diseases by Quacks, several years ago directed their Consulting Surgeon, as a CHARITABLE ACT worthy of their name, to open a Dispensary for the treatment of this class of diseases, in all their forms, and to give MEDICAL ADVICE GRATIS, to all who apply by letter, with a description of their condition, (age, occupation, habits of life, &c..) and in cases of extreme poverty, to FURNISH MEDICINES FREE OF CHARGE. It is needless to add tha the Association commands the highest Medical skill of the age, and will furnish the most approved modern treatment.
The Directors, on a review of the past, feel assured that their labors in this sphere of benevoient effort, have been of great henefit to the afflicted, especially to the young, and they have resolved to devote themselves, with renewed zeal, to this very important but much despised cause.
